

Q&A

WITH SARAH TWOHIG

SENIOR ASSOCIATE FROM PINSENT MASON'S

WHAT'S THE MOST IMPORTANT QUOTE YOU'VE HEARD THAT YOU HAVE ADAPTED TO YOUR PROFESSIONAL LIFE?

A quote from the great Irish writer and Nobel Prize winner Samuel Beckett, who said "Ever tried. Ever failed. No matter. Try again. Fail again. Fail better."

WHY DO YOU THINK THE FIRE SUMMER SCHOOL IS IMPORTANT FOR THE NEXT GEN?

The FIRE Summer School gives the Next Gen of fraud and asset recovery practitioners an opportunity to network in beautiful surroundings and to collaborate and exchange ideas and legal knowledge with peers in a relaxed environment. As the Next Gen of practitioners grow and progress, they have a network of talented peers they can share knowledge with and call upon in times of need.

WHAT KIND OF THINGS CAN WE EXPECT TO HEAR FROM THE SESSIONS AT THE EVENT?

The sessions offer practical tips and best practice in conducting investigations, managing clients' expectations and business development strategies to win clients. They also offer up to date knowledge insights on an array of topics, including asset recovery, crypto and digital assets and enforcement strategies. In Ireland, legislation has recently been introduced to allow litigation funding in limited circumstances, so I am looking forward to the session on litigation funding in particular.

WHAT KIND OF IMPACT DO YOU WISH TO MAKE TO THE NEXT GEN WHO ATTENDS THIS EVENT?

I hope that the Next Gen who attend this event will not only take away the most up to date fraud and asset recovery insights, but will also leave with a network of colleagues in the area that they can continue to collaborate with and grow with in to the future. I also hope that from this event the Next Gen is empowered to shape their careers in the direction that they wish to pursue and take positive steps to do so, using the knowledge and skills they've gained through the event.